

TOP SECRET

Them

Radiation from nuclear weapons has mutated ordinary ants into 50-foot-tall superants, who carry 10 million of your people off to work as drones in their colony.

SECRET OBSOLETE COMPUTERS

Your enemy is woefully behind in command-and-control tech. He/she must have four face down cards in play always, until he/she forgoes one turn to upgrade.

SECRET OPERATION: PAPER-CLIP

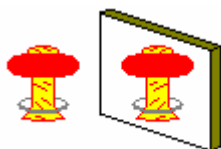

Your enemy's top scientist defects to your nation, bringing military secrets with him. Choose either "weapon system" or "warhead"; your enemy must give you one card of that type. If he/she cannot, he/she loses 1 turn..

SPECIAL ITCHY TRIGGER

Play when you flip over a missile (not a bomber). You may immediately flip over the next card. If it is a warhead, detonate it as usual. If it is not a warhead, you lose the card and your next turn

SPECIAL TIT-FOR-TAT

Play when an enemy detonates a warhead on you. You may immediately detonate on that enemy a warhead of the same strength from your hand. It then becomes your turn (as per interceptor rules).

Warhead E.M.P. BOMB

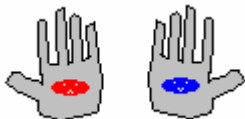

Takes the place of a 20 megaton warhead. Target loses his/her turn. If he/she has a missile in flight, it is lost on 01-75 on d100. Each adjacent neighbor loses a turn on 01-50 and loses an in-flight missile on 01-50 (roll separately).

SPECIAL THE SAKHAROV EFFECT

One of your enemy's prominent scientists protests nuclear testing. Play when your enemy flips over a warhead for "testing". You receive defectors from your enemy equal to 20% of the nominal yield of the warhead (minimum 1 Million)

TOP SECRET DOWN THE RABBIT HOLE

Choose one:
TAKE THE RED PILL:
5 million of your people "wake" up (return from the dead pile).
TAKE THE BLUE PILL:
10 million enemy people are trapped in a computer-generated world (leave the game)

SECRET GUNS OR BUTTER

The loss of your Cold War patron throws your economy into turmoil, forcing you to choose priorities. You must discard either (a) 1 Million people or (b) a weapon system or warhead.
